

with

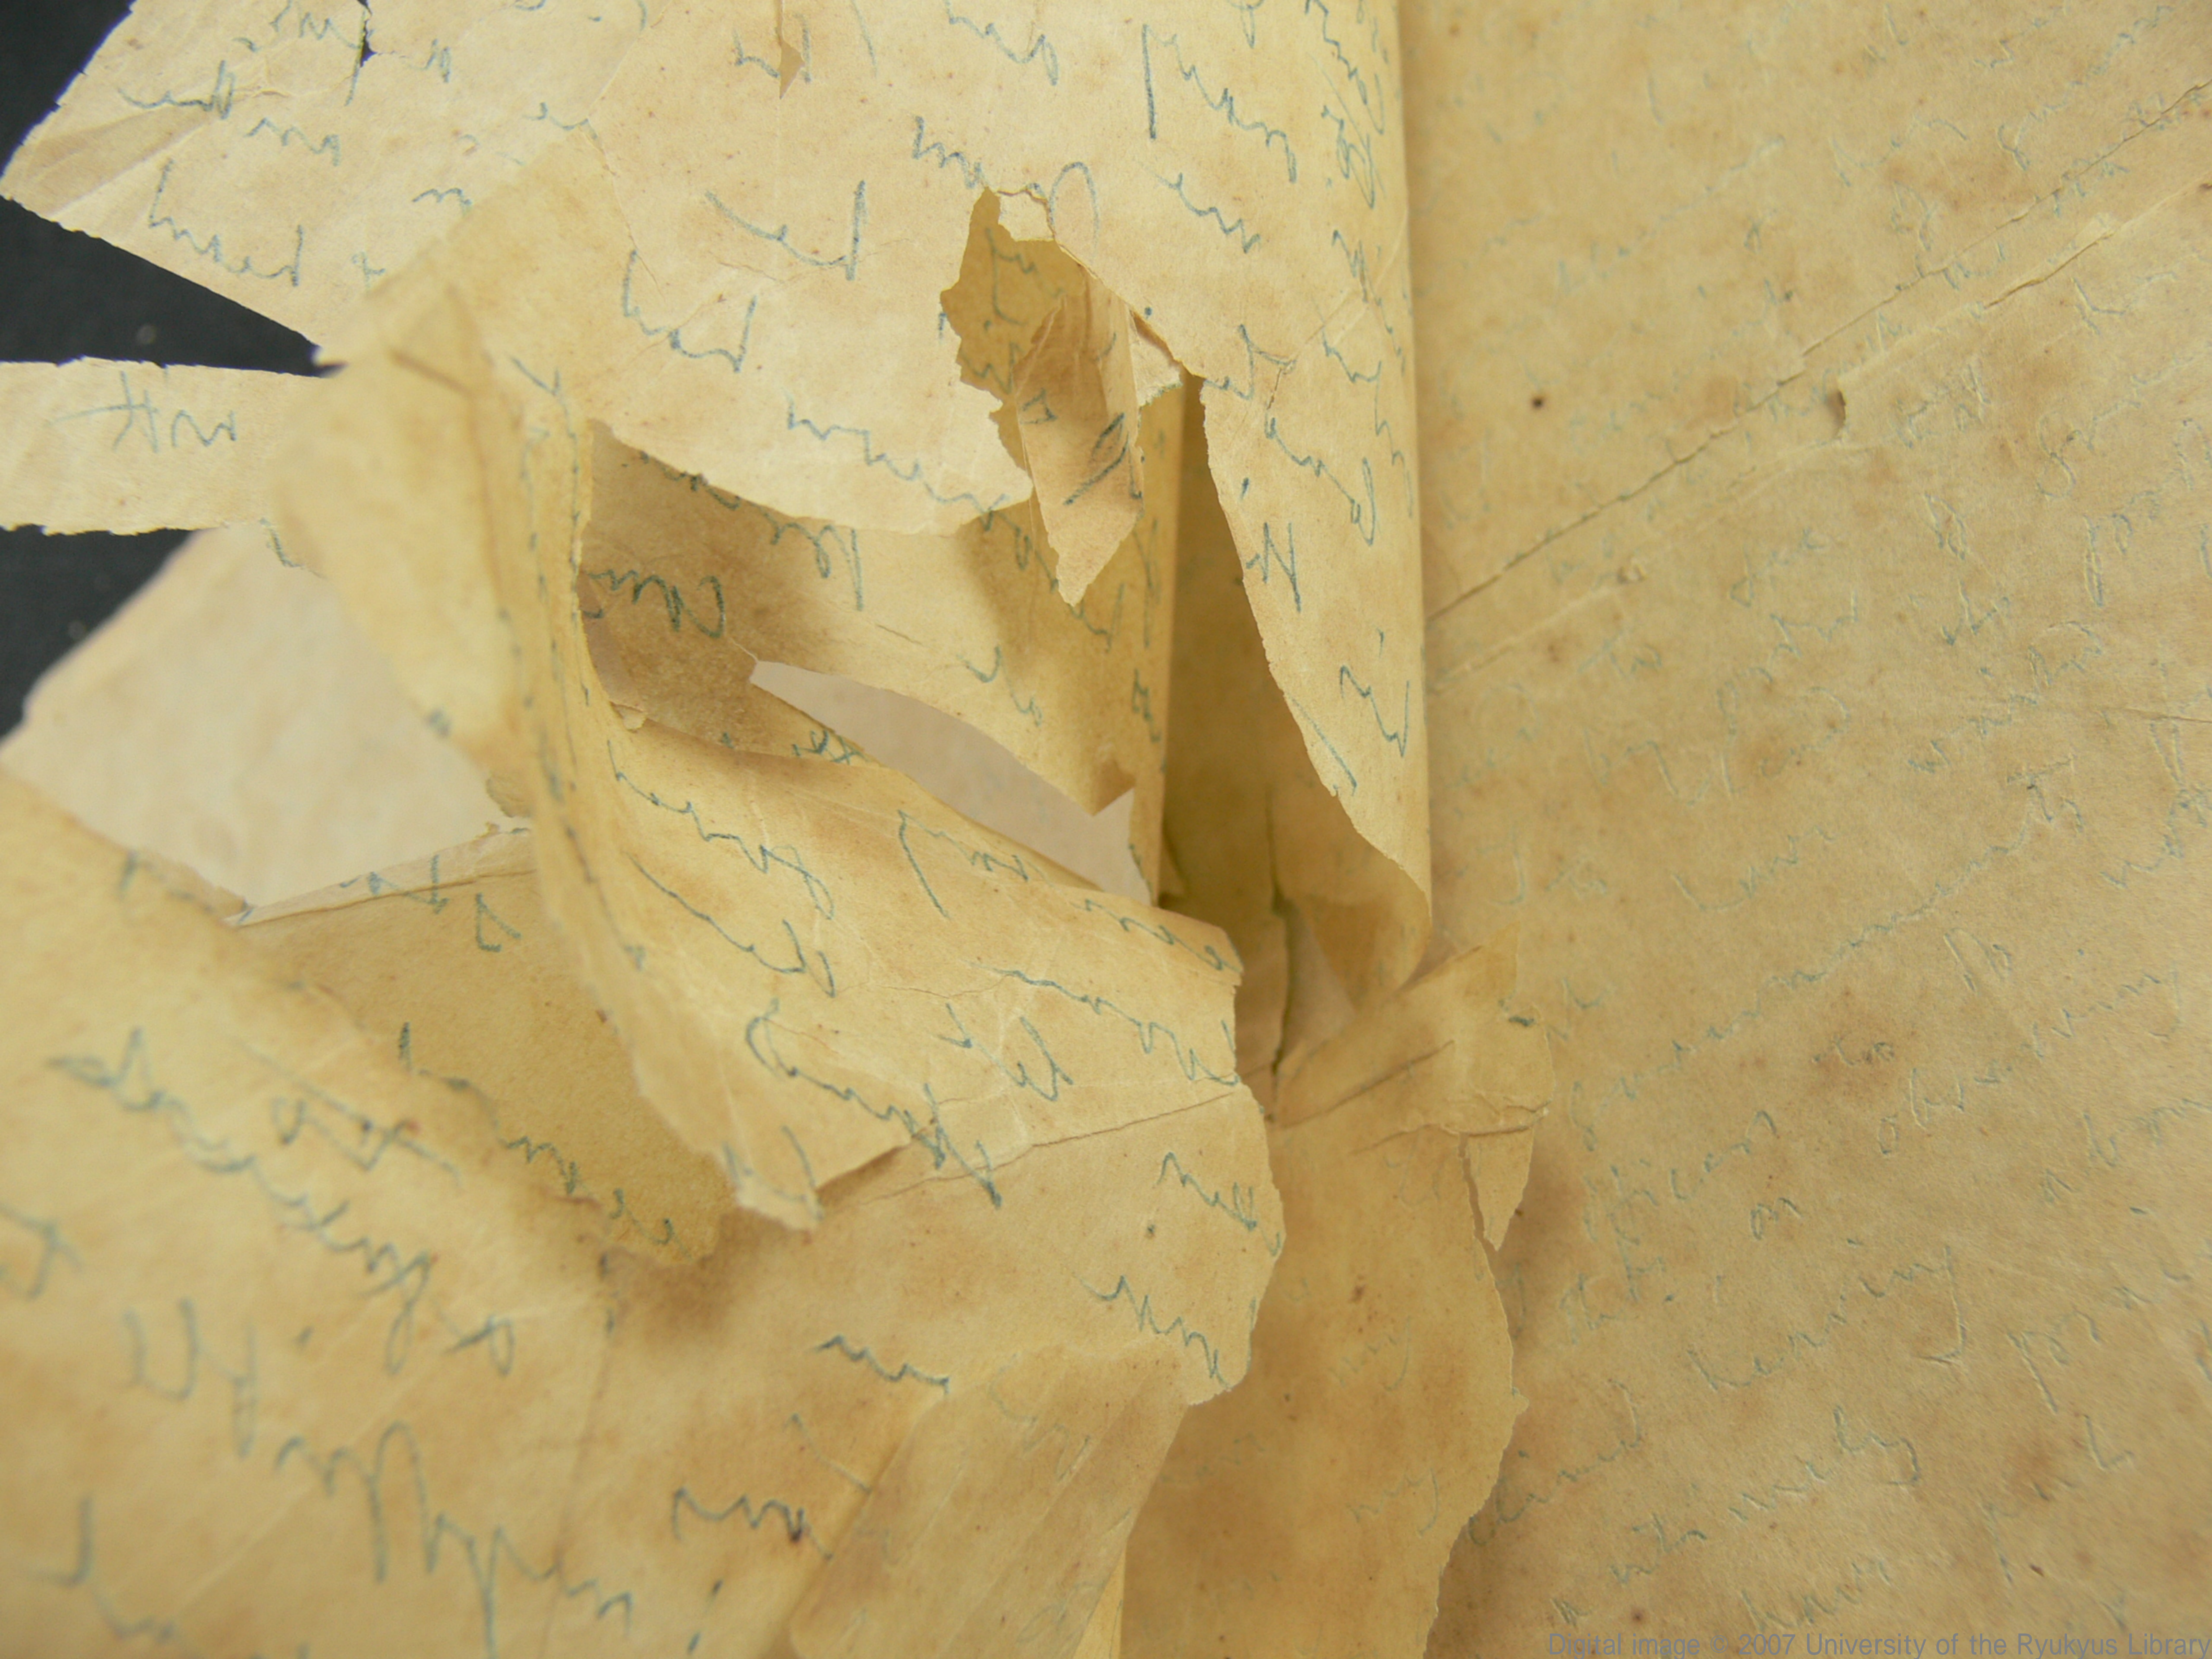

the

the

the

the

the

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter, written on aged, yellowed paper. The text is partially obscured by a large, blank rectangular piece of paper pasted over it.

A large, blank rectangular piece of aged paper pasted over the main text, possibly serving as a redaction or a placeholder for another document.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the top page or as a separate entry, written on aged, yellowed paper. The text is partially obscured by a large, blank rectangular piece of paper pasted over it.

(Faint, illegible handwritten text on torn paper scraps)

(Faint, illegible handwritten text on paper scraps)

Journal

from October 17

1846

to July

7

1847

(from the communication made me by Sir Thos. Cookson Secretary - my preaching labours - arrival of Cookson ship - no letters - one money stolen -)

(Cookson)

Journal

from October 17 1846

to July 7 1847

from the communication made me by Li Th^r Cochran's Secretary. - my preaching labours - arrival of Cochran's ship, - no classes