

that to be persuaded, that all the terms all, which may appear to him too strong will at all bring to either nation or tion - perhaps an overture - that be hoped from his position to a judgment which is very strong. The Government in particular must plainly they are known for what they make for what they would put themselves to instrument that have obtained the ship by paper diplomacy alone, self quite ready to beg pardon mandating for any term in my the to declare as offensive to his

W. J. Rebellin

in my opinion, it is by no means a small thing to have a family of four or five persons, and to be able to support them, is a great deal more than most people are capable of doing. I may be compelled to leave suddenly, and I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress. I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress. I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress.

My dear family, it is but a small thing to have a family of four or five persons, and to be able to support them, is a great deal more than most people are capable of doing. I may be compelled to leave suddenly, and I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress. I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress. I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress.

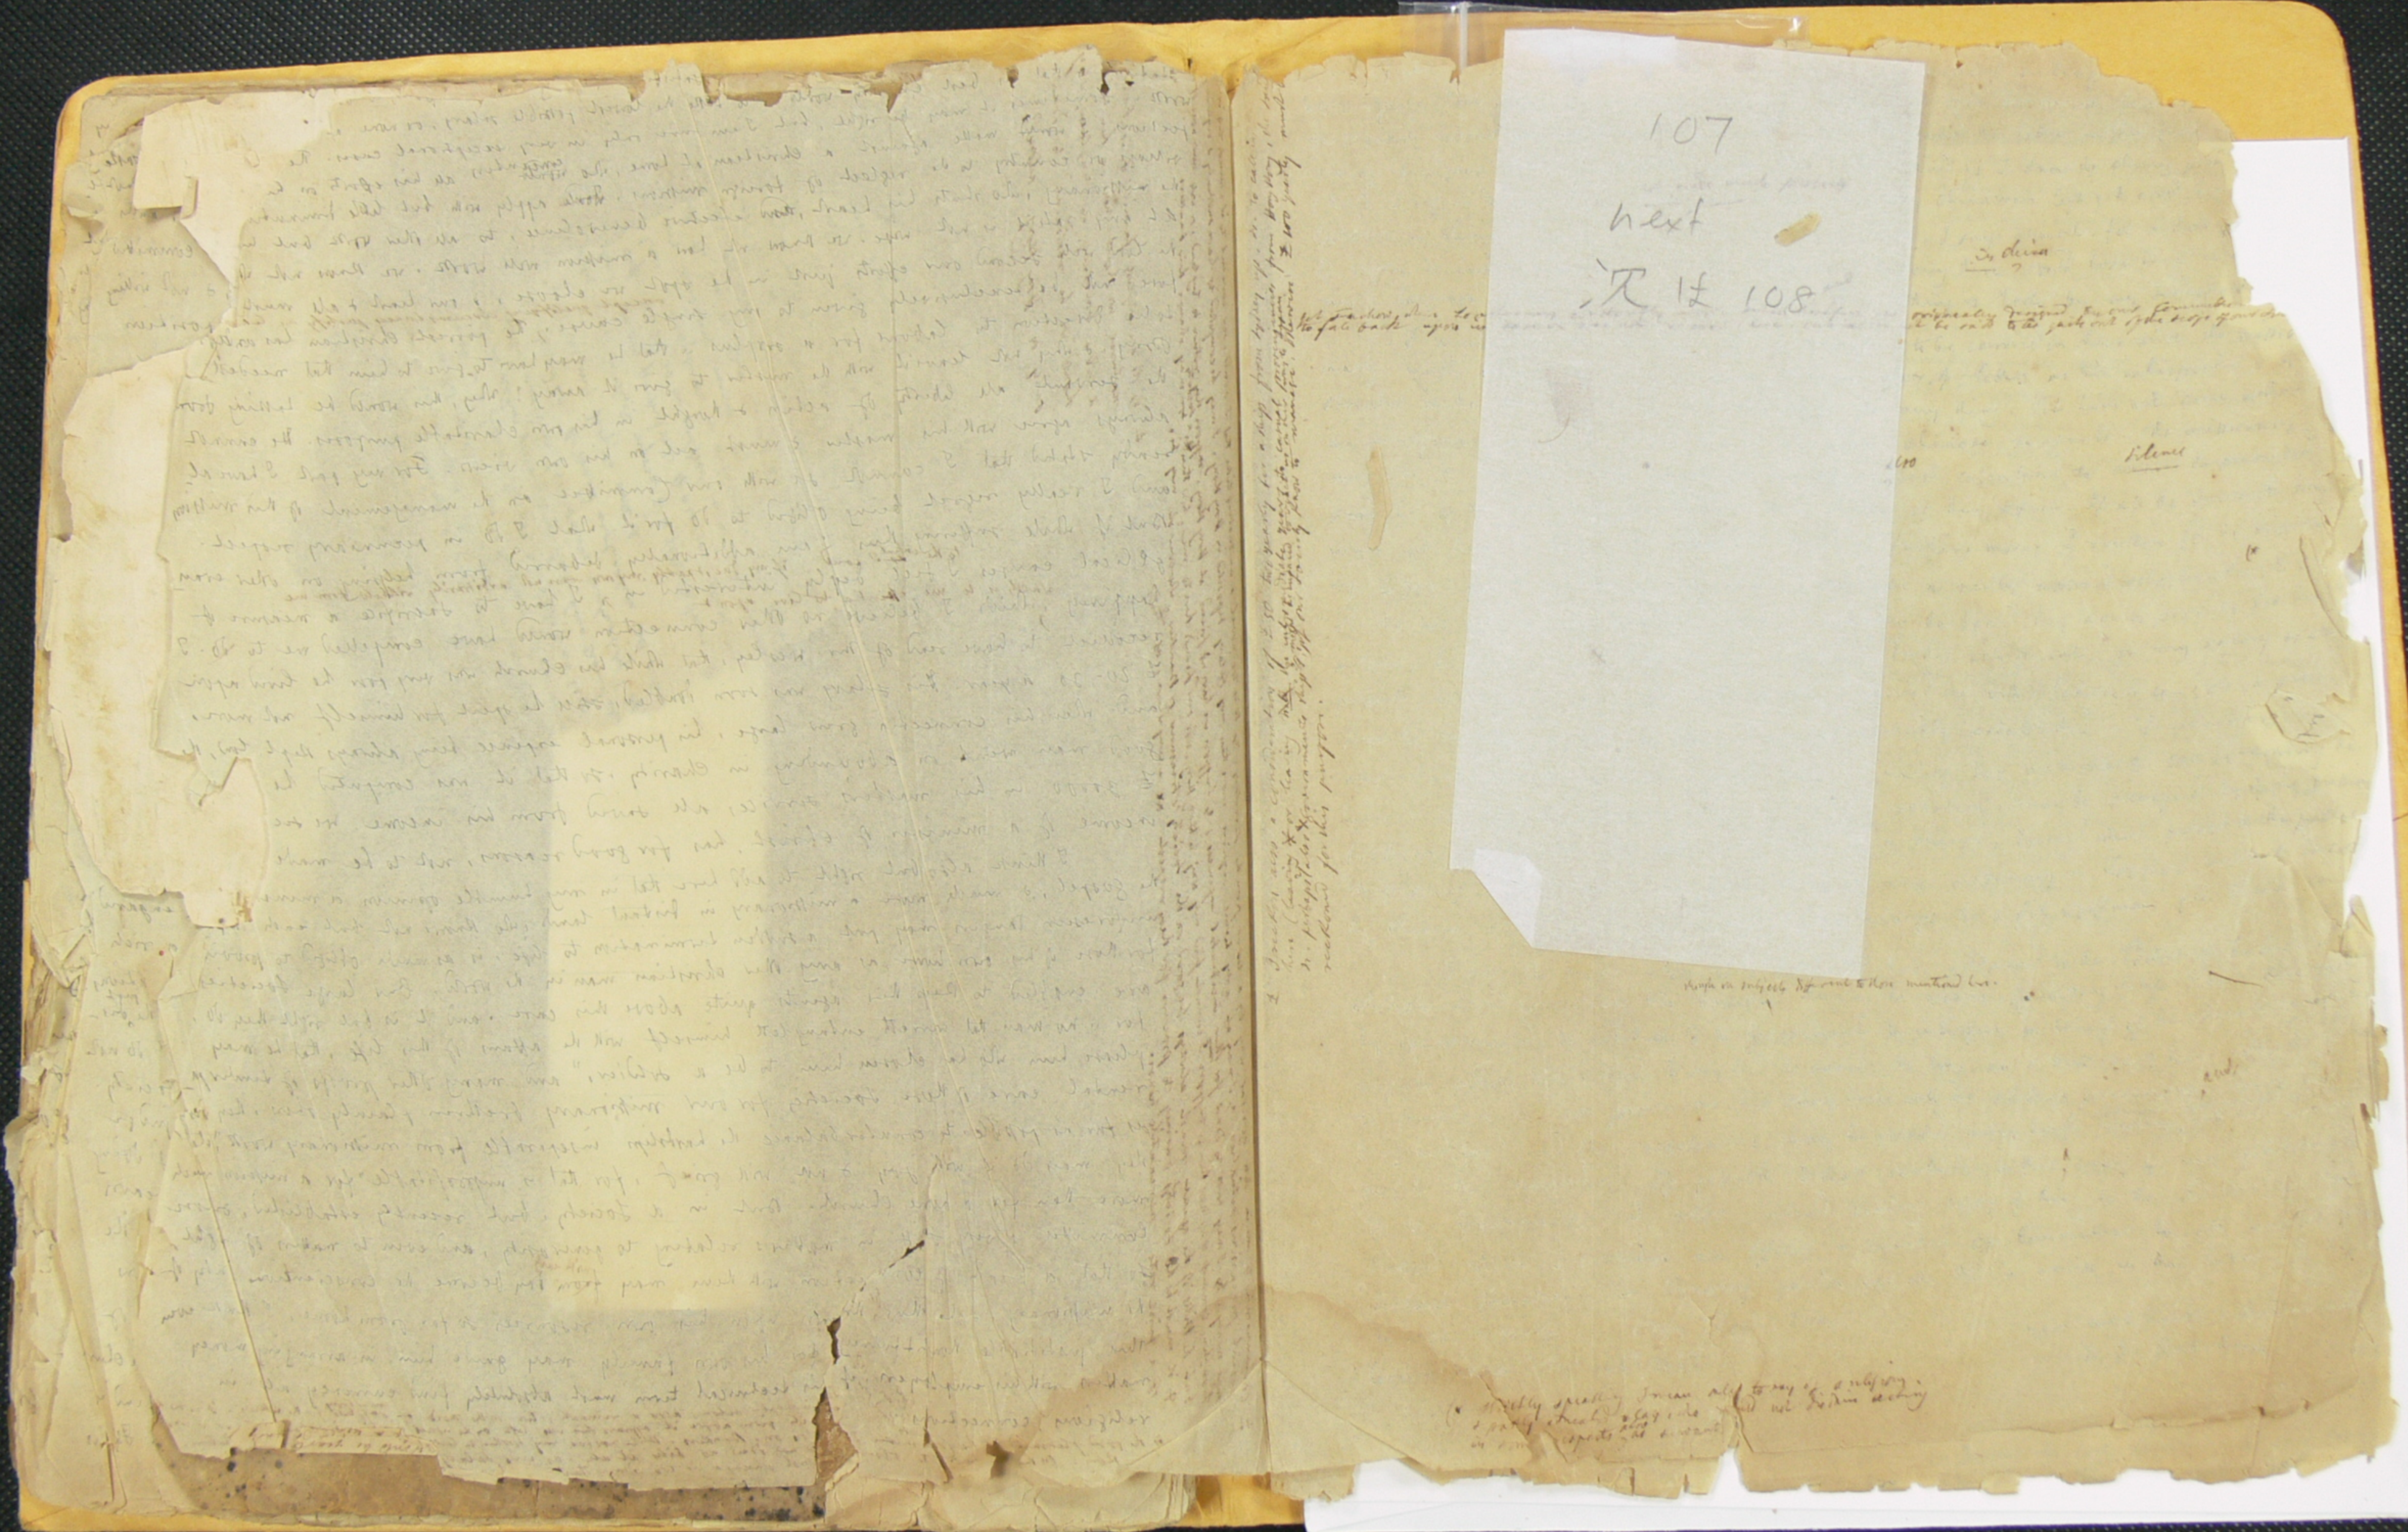

My dear family, it is but a small thing to have a family of four or five persons, and to be able to support them, is a great deal more than most people are capable of doing. I may be compelled to leave suddenly, and I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress. I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress. I may be obliged to leave my family in a state of poverty and distress.

Bernard Jean Bettelheim
TRANSLATION OF CHINESE CORRESPONDENCE WITH LOOCHOO GOVERNMENT 1846-1850 circumstances justify the fact erily withheld from me

琉球大学附属図書館 (NO. 06-1)
ベッテルハイム日記 NO. 2

107

next

況は 108