species. could of course have
And no more can I or the American officer. But we can pay & to pay most honestly to those who regularly supply us with food, which is the only way of bringing the country into fair contact with the foreigners.

All this regularity in payment, which was the mainstay of our independence here, is now to be broken down because Mr. Munton not only has no money, but I fear neither inclines to keep up regular payment. I think he would joyfully have ~~accepted~~ accepted of the offer of a loan I repeatedly made him, when I heard of his cash account, & he would rather to give me a monthly bill for his share of the expense, & to ask money under the form of a loan, of course - from the Commissioner, which I can not find to be exactly what I would call gentlemanly dealing.

Handwritten text on the left page, written in cursive. The text is dense and covers most of the page. At the top, there is a header that reads "The History of the Church of the Holy Spirit". The text appears to be a journal entry or a letter, discussing various topics related to the church and its members. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to read in some places.

I gratefully took, though I have the English language, also a a Report of the New York the blessing of the Lord and Telling in Capt. Thom strong he had formerly had pious features, a devoted he recently would come to Boston call her a "mother", wealth in California. In conversation, in partly Latin attentively he stole Grop in in Hong Kong, but he was. Ah I got out of her ears, that when he <sup>came</sup> back from Califor nia he would mind with that I had been a "land support", and I, "you die on your journey?" he thought this was not likely. I repeatedly urged repentance. He thanked me. And saying how much influence he had over all female persons, I urged her amendment also in the ground of the fearful responsibility he incurred not only in sinning but also in neglecting to correct all his dependants. - He knows how much evil may work!

8. About 8 p.m. was called to dinner to one of the tables who had been taken seriously ill. - Took with me several medicines, one of which suited. Lancers & had also ready, but not used.

9. Sunday. Rained bitterly the whole day. Went in hope to see as to see my man, whom I found considerably better. The rain had a little abated. Mrs. Norton came also and conducted service. - Unable to go out or hold in the afternoon a few hymns & in the evening the whole church more as usual & some exposition of scripture.

10. Had a very bad night. Awakened with moans from about 9 to 12. Then a lark among the groves attracted my attention & lulled me to sleep. Then was woken. In a neighboring house pipes were in able to get into friendly conversation. In another grave had then the wailing noise
