18 July 1970

SUBJECT: Third Meeting of the Preparatory Commission, 1500 hours, 3 June 1970

3. The U S Representative referred to paragraph 2 of the report from the Alternates, which concerned a revision of the budget principles which were agreed to by the Commission on 6 May 1970. He said that it had been found necessary for fiscal reasons to change the beginning date from 3 March 1970 to 1 April 1970 and asked whether the Commission was ready to agree on the revision. The Commission agreed.

4. Regarding continued authority of the Alternates to proceed as recommended in paragraph 5 of the report, the U S Representative mentioned that the Alternates are requesting approval to clarify, refine, and expand lists of problem areas as attached, to omit from them any items not within the purview of PrepCom, and to compile additional lists. The U S Representative asked if the Commission would agree to this request from the Alternates. The Commission approved.

5. The U S Representative asked the Commission if it approved the plan of the Alternates to hold a press conference following this meeting as a substitute for a press conference by the Commission itself. The Commission agreed to approve a press conference by the Alternates.

6. In response to the inquiry from the U S Representative, the Commission agreed to approve the issuance, following this meeting, of the press statement as attached.

7. The U S Representative asked whether the Commission agreed to forward the Alternates' report, under the title of "Report to the Consultative Committee from the Preparatory Commission," through proper channels to ConCom together with an indication of the action taken on it by the Commission at the meeting today. The Commission agreed to do so since the Consultative Committee had requested that it be informed from time to time of the status of the work of PrepCom.

8. The U S Representative then asked for agreement that the next meeting be held on Wednesday, 1 July 1970. The Adviser said he expected that he would be away at the end of this month. The U S Representative suggested that the Alternates inform themselves of the Adviser's schedule and make a recommendation to the Commission for the next meeting. The Commission agreed.

9. Lastly, the U S Representative asked whether there was anything in today's meeting that should not be discussed with the press. The GOJ Representative said that the three items on "Problem Areas for Subcommittee on Local Preparations to Facilitate Application to Okinawa of SOFA" should not be disclosed since the status of their treatment in the subcommittee was not sufficiently advanced to warrant comment about them to the press. In this connection, the Adviser said these matters were of great concern to the Okinawan people and requested, therefore, that the other members firmly keep this fact in mind.

PREPCOM

3 June 1970

REPORT TO THE PREPARATORY COMMISSION FROM THE ALTERNATES

1. At the Preparatory Commission (hereinafter "Commission") meeting on 6 May 1970 the Alternates were directed to submit at the next meeting of the Commission an estimate of total common expenses. An agreed budget estimate is attached at TAB A, and the Alternates invite the Commission to approve it.
2. The Commission approved a set of principles for the budget at the 6 May meeting which provided that the original estimate should be determined for the period 3 March 1970 - 31 March 1971. It has been found necessary for fiscal reasons to change this period to 1 April 1970 - 31 March 1971. The Alternates also invite the Commission to approve this revision.
3. At their 6 May 1970 meeting the Commission approved the establishment of four standing subcommittees. By 18 May the respective Governments had named the personnel who will be the regular members of the subcommittees. In the meantime all of the subcommittees have met and have begun to draw up their work programs.
4. At their meeting on 6 May 1970 the Commission also directed the Alternates to:
 - a. Formulate procedures for the coordination of the supplying to each Government of information agreed as necessary for the promotion of the preparations for reversion.
 - b. Formulate procedures for the coordination of information-gathering activities by official Japanese Government missions from authorities of the USG in Okinawa for purposes relating to reversion.
 - c. Arrange effective means by which non-Ryukyuan residents, including businessmen and professionals, can consult with the appropriate authorities of the GOJ prior to reversion.

The Alternates have now established the necessary procedures, including the naming of specific officials to be initial points of contact.

5. At the 6 May 1970 meeting the Commission also directed the respective subcommittees to proceed under the direction of the Alternates to identify problems to be solved before the return of administrative rights to the GOJ, to devise measures to solve such problems as are to be dealt with in Okinawa, and to submit a progress report at the next Commission meeting. The subcommittees have produced three lists of problem areas. The first list, tentatively identified as falling primarily within the purview of the Subcommittee for Industrial and Economic Affairs, is at TAB B. The second list, tentatively identified as being primarily within the jurisdiction of the Subcommittee on Local Preparations for Transfer of Administrative Rights, is at TAB C. The third list, which contains three suggestions for items to be studied by the Subcommittee on Local Preparations to Facilitate Application to Okinawa of SOFA, is at TAB D. These lists illustrate the progress so far achieved by the subcommittees. The Alternates intend to further clarify, refine, and expand these lists, to omit from them any items not within the purview of PrepCom, and to compile additional lists. The Alternates invite the Commission to approve this procedure.
6. The Alternates invite the Commission to approve the holding of a press conference by the Alternates immediately following this meeting.
7. To respond to the request of the Consultative Committee to be kept informed of the progress of the Commission from time to time, the Alternates recommend that a copy of this report, under the title of "Report to the Consultative Committee from the Preparatory Commission," be forwarded through proper channels to ConCom together with an indication of the action taken on it by the Commission at the 3 June meeting.

LAMPERT: Mr. Ambassador and Mr. Chief Executive, if you agree I suggest that we might proceed to consider the report which has been prepared for us by the Alternates.

TAKASE: Yes, I agree.

LAMPERT: I note that the first item in the report from the Alternates is the proposed budget estimate to be agreed on. It is attached at TAB A. We might agree to accept the budget estimate.

TAKASE: Yes. I agree.

CONFIDENTIAL IN NATURE
Preparatory Commission

YARA: Agreed.

LAMPERT: I also agree. I note also in the report of the Alternates, Paragraph 2, that on 6 May we approved a set of principles for the budget.

It is necessary for fiscal reasons to change the period covered from 3 March 1970 to 31 March 1971 to 1 April 1970 to 31 March 1971. This is a change from the original agreement which was part of our 6 May meeting. It is now proposed that the beginning date be changed from 3 March 1970 to 1 April 1970. This is a fiscal year change. I am prepared to agree to that.

TAKASE: I approve.

YARA: Agreed.

LAMPERT: I agree also. The report of the Alternates then deals with the work the Alternates have carried on since our last meeting and the latter part of paragraph 5 says that the Alternates intend to further clarify, refine, and expand these lists of problem areas, to omit from them any items not within the purview of PrepCom, and to compile additional lists. The Alternates invite the Commission to approve this procedure which I take as asking for a grant for the necessary authority for the Alternates to carry out their work plan.

TAKASE: I approve.

YARA: I approve.

LAMPERT: I also approve. I then propose Mr. Ambassador and Mr. Chief Executive, that since today's meeting is a relatively brief one, it is appropriate for the Alternates to meet the press following this meeting. I ask you, gentlemen, to agree. I am certain you are prepared to agree.

TAKASE: Yes, I approve. I think it is appropriate to proceed in that way.

CONFIDENTIAL IN NATURE
Preparatory Commission

CONFIDENTIAL IN NATURE

YARA: No objection.

LAMPERT: We have all agreed. The Alternates have prepared a proposed press statement, which is shown in the file at the final Tab and is to be issued following this meeting. I ask my colleagues to approve the issuance of this statement.

TAKASE: I agree. No comment on it.

YARA: Agreed.

LAMPERT: I am not skillful at conducting this kind of meeting and inadvertently omitted point 5 in the scenario. I return to this point. I apologize for having omitted this point unintentionally. Since the Consultative Committee in Tokyo has requested this Commission to inform it from time to time of the progress of the Commission, it is recommended that a copy of the Alternates' report, under the title of "Report to the Consultative Committee from the Preparatory Commission," be forwarded through proper channels to ConCom together with an indication of the action taken on it by the Commission at the meeting today. I ask my colleagues to agree.

TAKASE: I agree.

YARA: Agreed.

LAMPERT: Then, we all agree to forward the report to the Consultative Committee as recommended. Under the procedures we have previously agreed we would normally hold our next meeting on Wednesday, 1 July 1970. I ask my colleagues to agree that we should meet on 1 July.

YARA: It is expected that I will be away at the end of this month.

If it is agreeable to you, I would ask my Alternate to attend the meeting.

LAMPERT: We could ask the Alternates to keep up with the Chief

CONFIDENTIAL IN NATURE
Preparatory Commission

Executive's schedule closely and informally make a recommendation for a meeting shortly after that date.

YARA: I agree.

LAMPERT: I would like to ask, in accordance with our normal procedure, the views of you gentlemen as to whether there was anything in today's meeting that should not be discussed with the press.

TAKASE: Yes. I think I have one problem for consideration by my colleagues about information to be given to the press. There is a list of items at TAB D on "Problem Areas for Subcommittee on Local Preparations to Facilitate Application to Okinawa of SOFA." There are three items; one, "Restoration Compensation for Released Military-Leased Land;" two, "Compensation for Damages to Properties and Personal Injuries Caused by Illegal Acts of the U S Forces' Members and Civilian Component Thereof;" and three, "Preparation for Switch Over of Military Employment System." Regarding these items, I think, the status of implementation in the subcommittees is not ripe enough for us to deal with the press. I think we had better not refer them to the press during the course of today's press conference or press conferences by one of us or all three of us.

YARA: These items are of great concern on the Okinawan side. The prefectural people expect to know about these matters. I understand that we cannot make a public announcement because of the unripe status of the items. However, I would like to request you to firmly keep in mind the fact that the Okinawan people have a great interest in these matters.

TAKASE: Keeping in mind of the public interest, and also in order to make a public announcement as soon as possible, we have to work out these matters. They have not been discussed extensively even in Tokyo yet. These matters are of great concern to us also.

Preparatory Commission

LAMPERT: I fully associate myself with what Ambassador Takase has mentioned. I would like to ask my colleagues whether there are other matters which we should consider this time.

TAKASE: Making use of this opportunity, I should like to introduce to you gentlemen my new staff members who have arrived during the last two weeks. I will call their names. Mr. Nakayama has the rank of First Secretary in the Foreign Affairs Ministry and he formerly belonged to the National Police Agency. He will stay here and work with us. Mr. Numakoshi has the same rank as Mr. Nakayama. He has been serving in the Ministry of Transportation. Mr. Suzuki also is a First Secretary. He formerly belonged to the Defense Agency. Thank you very much.

LAMPERT: I hope Mr. Chief Executive will permit me to join him in welcoming the new members to Akarui Okinawa. Gentlemen, I would like to take this chance to introduce a new member. He is not new to you. He has been here some time. Mr. William T. Burke has been on the island nearly one year. He has recently returned to full time work in economic and industrial matters. He was here before to work on economic matters but he was fully occupied by re-employment matters and, in May, joined the PrepCom. Are there other matters?

TAKASE: No, I don't have any.

YARA: None.

LAMPERT: I believe we will adjourn our meeting. Ikimashō.

The meeting was adjourned at 1535 hours.

PRESS STATEMENT

The Preparatory Commission today at its third meeting approved a progress report from the Alternates and directed that they continue to explore and define problem areas and begin to establish priorities for devising solutions.

In attendance at the Commission's offices in Naha were the United States Representative, High Commissioner James B. Lampert; the Representative of the Government of Japan, Ambassador Jiro Takase; and the Adviser to the Commission, Mr. Choby Yara, Chief Executive of the Government of the Ryukyu Islands.

The progress report included preliminary outlines of future work programs. These outlines were prepared by recently established subcommittees as part of their initial study of key aspects of the process of reversion of Okinawa to Japanese administration. Indicative of some of the problem areas under consideration is the question of the timing and the manner of transferring authority for civil matters from the United States Civil Administration of the Ryukyu Islands to the Government of Japan and/or to the Government of the Ryukyu Islands, the objective being in these as in all other aspects of the Commission's work to assure a smooth transition in the accomplishment of reversion.

PREFCOM

In the industrial and economic areas, the Commission noted that among other potential problems which require further exploration are the treatment of foreign investment, of foreign professional personnel living in Okinawa, and the treatment of titles and leases of the former state and prefecture owned lands.

In keeping with the reference in the "Principles and Guidelines" to the Commission's consideration of the local aspects of the application of the US-Japan SOFA (Status of Forces Agreement) to Okinawa, the Alternates reported that the subcommittee concerned with this matter is undertaking a careful examination of problems involved.

The Commission approved the various procedures that the Alternates had formulated for the purpose of carrying out the following provisions of the "Principles and Guidelines": coordination of the gathering and transmission of information required by the Governments during the preparation for reversion, and the establishment of a ready means of access to the GOJ by non-Ryukyuan residents of Okinawa with reversion-related problems. Specially designated officials in the respective elements of the Preparatory Commission have been appointed for these purposes.

The Preparatory Commission considered the work of the Alternates and their staffs, as reflected in the report, a noteworthy beginning toward finding solutions to the problems before the Commission.

TRANSCRIPT OF NEWS CONFERENCE HELD BY THE PREPARATORY COMMISSION, IN NAHA, OKINAWA
3 JUNE 1970

Participants

MINISTER EDDIE W. SCHODT, ALTERNATE, UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

MR. HARUNORI KAYA, ACTING ALTERNATE, GOVERNMENT OF JAPAN

MR. HIROSHI SENAGA, ALTERNATE, GOVERNMENT OF THE RYUKYU ISLANDS

INTERPRETER: I just announced this press conference to be opened. We will entertain questions direct and each reporter should specify to whom the questions are directed.

REPORTER (Interpreted): This question is directed to any one of you three alternates, so if any of you three will answer, it will be alright with me. We understand that at this Preparatory Commission meeting today the report from the alternates was approved. But this report, as I read it, seems quite ineffective. It does not directly specify the points and I was wondering why there can't be more specific details provided. As we, or the general public have understood informally, prior to this meeting today, there are four subcommittees formed and each committee has been given the assignment to come up with a list on the areas in which the Preparatory Commission will work on. So, for instance, what would the subcommittee on economics be doing? Is there any list which they have boiled down to that could be studied, or on what the administrative rights transfer subcommittee would be doing? And I would appreciate an answer from any of you three.

MINISTER SCHODT: I would just like to say that I defer to the ability and the fluency in Japanese of my colleagues for this question.

MR. KAYA (Interpreted): In answering your question, I must say that the four subcommittees have looked into the problems and boiled them down to 13 areas but there are many different areas to be probed into and the speed in which each area should be studied and so there is some amount of question on what should, as you mentioned, be listed for future studies. But in the area of the subcommittee on economics, I would like to refer to page 2 at the top in which it says that among the potential areas there is further exploration to be made in the treatment of foreign investment, the treatment of foreign professional personnel living in Okinawa, and the treatment of titles and leases of former state and prefecture owned lands -- and this much is being boiled down for the studies in the future. As for the administrative rights transfer subcommittee, it is not clearly mentioned in the press report. However, I would like to invite you to look at page 1, where it does provide a big umbrella regarding the problem areas under consideration. The question of timing and the manner of transferring the authority -- the authority of the civil administration of the Ryukyus to either the Government of Japan or the Government of the Ryukyu Islands. I would think that, although this is quite general in wording, it does give us a big objective to which we can work on. In the area of the SOFA subcommittee, I would like to refer to page 1 in which it does say that the studies are being made. This is as much as we can say at this time. But in the future, these areas will be further studied and worked upon so that more definite, tangible matters can be announced.

REPORTER (Interpreted): I would like to direct this question to Mr. Kaya and that is, it seems to me that the matters to be studied could be clarified or can be specified in further detail. After all, there has been a month's study in the areas and so I would appreciate if you can either do so by listing the areas that have been studied. If you can give us more detailed explanation of the areas, I would appreciate it.

MR. KAYA (Interpreted): With regard to the administrative rights transfer subcommittee, there are many areas of authority which are being carried out by the United States Civil Administration under the authority vested in the United States and these areas -- the areas of authority would have to be probed into. There are the areas in which the Government of the Ryukyu Islands is implementing, which are under the guidance or under the instructions of the Civil Administration. We are now in the stage where we are probing into these vast areas of authority vested in the Civil Administration and I cannot say anymore than this because this would take in many details of studies which we have not gone into. I would say that it would take some time before we can come up with answers to the question of what type of authority and when this authority should be restored. This is as much as I can say at this time. With regard to the subcommittee on economics, there are many areas to be studied but I cannot say anymore than has been reported in the press. Possibly Minister Schodt can supplement my statement by his own views on this matter. With regard to the SOFA subcommittee, this area is quite complicated, as you will all agree with me, and in the application of the Status of Forces agreement in Okinawa, there will be many areas in which to determine before we can really boil down to specifics.

I would say that it would take considerable time before we can come up with any position.

MINISTER SCHODT: I would like to complement Mr. Kaya's remarks by saying that what has been listed in the press release, of course, is only in the category of illustrations of the broad range of matters with which we are charged. Under the guidelines and principles that were issued by the Consultative Committee in Tokyo and under the overall direction under which we are operating, there is a very broad range of matters with which we must be concerned. To give you just one additional illustration, a relatively simple one but nonetheless pertinent, let's take the laws that apply to pollution in Japan. This is a subject of great interest in the United States and, I think, in other countries as well. When reversion comes, for example, these laws would be applicable here. Before reversion, that would be one aspect that the Preparatory Commission would have to look into. And, as I think you can appreciate, a number of laws are involved -- there are very complex aspects; so at this stage, we are just really beginning to explore the very wide range of matters that we are required to consider -- to look into.

I would just like to state on behalf of my colleagues that it is my inadequate knowledge of Japanese that requires us to take the time for translation into English, and I beg your pardon for that. Because of this time, we have all agreed here, out of consideration for you gentlemen, that we will not stop at thirty minutes. We will continue at least another fifteen minutes beyond that time.

REPORTER (Interpreted): I would like to direct the first part of my question to Mr. Kaya. It seems to me that aside from what has been provided for the press, you must have indicated or presented to the representatives a more detailed list on specifics. Can we understand it so? My next question to you is when will these specific areas be publicly announced. I would like to direct the second part of my question to Mr. Senaga. Have you discussed the problems of the right to investigate crimes by your personnel or the problem of employment system for the military employees in the alternates' meetings?

MR. KAYA (Interpreted): To your first question I would like to answer in this way. The press report says that the report included preliminary outlines of future work and in the subcommittee meetings, if I understand you correctly, pro and con discussions were held on various aspects of the problems. There may be some that have been agreed upon. There may be others where further discussion will be required. So the result was as reported to the press. As for whether these minute areas can be publicly mentioned or not is in the area of what might be called diplomatic negotiations. So you would understand the difficulty of not being able to give these areas out at this time. I am sure that as the subcommittees will explore further and boil down the areas, sometime in the future they will be able to come up with some more specific areas out of the discussions.

MR. SENAGA (Interpreted): As for the matter pertaining to the right to investigate crimes by U.S. personnel, this is a matter where we are deeply interested and it is at this stage the GRI element of the Preparatory Commission is looking into the matter and eventually, when we have boiled down and completed our studies, there is a possibility that this matter will be presented for the discussions by the subcommittees. As for the employment system, this is another area of deep interest to us and I would think that this matter eventually will be brought to the Preparatory Commission for discussions. However, as you all know and as Director General Yamanaka of the Prime Minister's Office has mentioned -- this matter is being discussed between U.S. and Japan at this stage; so we would like to time our tabling of this matter to the Preparatory Commission along with the negotiations going on in Tokyo.

REPORTER (Interpreted): Can we understand that the subcommittee on industrial and economic areas had discussed only the four points that are mentioned in this press report?

MR. KAYA (Interpreted): There is a question on the matter of tabling -- whether we can consider that the tabling of problems had been only these four or not. The reason why these four were reported in the press report was that these are the areas in which the three elements have come to the point where it seems appropriate to start discussions in these areas. Of course, this does not necessarily mean we will immediately go into the discussion of these areas. As the work of this Preparatory Commission continues and is explored, there may be other areas found to be appropriate to work on before these four points. At any rate, we cannot keep on screening the matters to be discussed, so we have to start somewhere. And in that event, we will start working on these or, if necessary, other areas that have been explored by then.

REPORTER (Interpreted): These areas reported in the press statement regarding the areas of industry and economics on these three points -- one, on the treatment of foreign investment, the other on foreign professionals who are living in Okinawa, the other on treatment of titles and leases of former state and prefecture owned lands. Are we to understand that these are the three areas in which the three elements have agreed -- that is, that the Japanese Government has come up with this matter of the treatment of foreign investment, the U.S. with the foreign professionals living in Okinawa, and the GRI with the titles and leases of former state and prefecture owned land?

MINISTER SCHODT: First of all, on the attribution of items to governments, let me just say that within the subcommittees we do not work on the basis of one item coming from one government and one from another. We are confronted with the problem, and the experts that we have contribute their ideas. If you go back to the principles and guidelines, for example -- in the economic field it says there, among other things, that we are to work to reduce the differences in the social and economic area to bring about a smooth transition at the time of reversion. Now, when you look at these statements, obviously this covers a very broad range, so that when we begin to work in the subcommittees we do not proceed on the basis of GRI throws in this and GOJ throws in that. We are concerned with a problem and we try then to devise how we can best proceed. And again, to come back to my earlier statement, these points in the press release are simply some illustrations of what would fall into the category of broad sectors of reversion with which we must concern ourselves. We have -- even though the last meeting was on the 6th of May -- we have arrived at the stage of considering items -- fairly recently -- and as a result we have to say we have not been able to explore these matters in any depth so far.

REPORTER (Interpreted): I am not trying to add a fuse to this matter -- the question which I have presented, but the reason I have brought this matter up is it's clear in the press statement that one of the three is quite important on the part of the Ryukyuan Government, while another holds deep concern for the United States side, while one is in the area in which the Japanese Government will be deeply interested. That is why I have brought this matter up. It is alright if the elements will get together and come up with agreement but these matters that have been reported in this industrial and economic area do clearly identify the areas of interest to the Ryukyuan Government, the United States, and the Japanese Government. That is why this question was raised. That is why I say that, can we understand that this is the fact that has been agreed upon by the elements?

MR. KAYA (Interpreted): To explain further regarding these three matters in the industrial and economic area -- it was noted by the Commission in the press statement -- the treatment of foreign investment and that of the foreign professionals living in Okinawa. Going back to the principles and guidelines set forth in Tokyo in Section III, if you will recall correctly, there is a statement that refers to the need to look into these two areas and as far as the third area of the statement on prefecture owned land, I would like to consult with Mr. Senaga if I am wrong. But it seems to me that this was tabled or brought into the discussions of the Advisory Committee and that there was general agreement at that time that this was an area to be looked into, to which Mr. Senaga added that he did not note it before but it is true as the reported has detected that whether -- I don't think it is coincidental, but that these three areas have been covered in the press statement. But I don't think that this was intentional, to identify the areas. These matters were discussed by one, if not all three elements at one time or another. It was agreed by the elements that this would be the type of areas to begin with by the PrepCom. I can only say that I guess it is quite difficult for us to say who has brought this matter up and why.

MINISTER SCHODT: I would just add, on behalf of the statement made by Senaga-san, that all three items, for example, would be of interest to the United States if we were going to proceed from a government standpoint. Not just one -- all three of them.

REPORTER (Interpreted): This is not a question. This is more, you might say, as a suggestion. And that is, if this is the type of response that we are to obtain in this press conference, I don't think there is a need to hold such a giant press conference. We would like to know more in detail of what went on in the committee meetings. If this is the type of discussions that have been going on, I must say that your committee meetings are very slow in your deliberations. This is how it impresses me. So I would like to suggest, for your next meeting, that you go into detail so that you can come up with more specific details. Thank you very much.

REPORTER (Interpreted): I have one question in two parts. The first one is how many subcommittee meetings have been held so far? Second, when you talk about professionals, are you referring to qualifications and licenses?

MINISTER SCHODT: I'm sorry -- professionals -- you mean that statement in the press release?

REPORTER (Interpreted): In the press statement -- when you talk about foreign professionals. Professionals of what? Are you referring to qualified professionals?

MINISTER SCHODT: Yes. Let me just say on that point that maybe my colleagues would like to add something. When we speak of foreign professional personnel, we are talking about foreigners here who are qualified to carry on professional activity, such as dentists, doctors, lawyers, and so forth. And on the other part of the question, on how many subcommittee meetings we have held, frankly we have not tallied up the number of subcommittee meetings. We have held, certainly, a considerable number and we will have many more in the future.
