- 1. At the fourteenth meeting of the Security Consultative Committee to be held on January 23, the Japanese side wishes to hold discussion on the prior consultation mechanism provided for in the Exchange of Notes concerning the implementation of Article VI of the Treaty of Mutual Cooperation and Security between Japan and the United States of America. The purpose of the discussion is to confirm the understandings of the two Governments concerning specific meanings of the prior consultation mechanism so that there will be no room for the two Governments, in making public explanations (particularly to their respective legislatures), to leave the impression that there might be some substantial discrepancies in their understandings. The Japanese side, therefore, naturally has no intention to propose revision of the prior consultation mechanism itself in the proposed discussion.
- 2. During the twelve years since the prior consultation mechanism was established under the present Security Treaty, the Government of Japan has offered some explanations to the public and to the Diet on the specific meanings of the mechanism. The Government of Japan considers it useful for the two Governments to review at this occasion such explanations as it would suit the purpose specified in paragraph 1 above. The gist of certain specific meanings of the prior consultation mechanism as understood and explained hitherto by the Government of Japan is set forth in Attachment 1.
- 3. If the United States side has no objection to the views of the Japanese side as expressed above, the Government of Japan proposes that these points be mentioned in the press release of the coming meeting of the Security Consultative Committee as set forth in Attachment 2.

- 2. During the twelve years since the prior consultation mechanism was established under the present Security Treaty, the Government of Japan has offered some explanations to the public and to the Diet on the specific meanings of the mechanism. The Government of Japan considers it useful for the two Governments to review at this occasion such explanations as it would suit the purpose specified in paragraph 1 above. The gist of certain specific meanings of the prior consultation mechanism as understood and explained hitherto by the Covernment of Japan is set forth in Attachment 1.
- 3. The Government of Japan, considering the necessity of having closer mutual consultation and understanding between the two Governments with respect to the implementation of the Security Treaty, including matters related to the prior consultation mechanism, wishes to propose to establish a subordinate forum under the Security Consultative Committee, in addition to such various existing forums and channels as the Security Consultative Committee, the Security Consultative Subcommittee, the Joint Committee and the diplomatic and military channels. With respect to the composition of the proposed forum, it is suggested that the Japanese side be represented by the Deputy Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs in charge of security matters and the Director-General of American Affairs Bureau of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Director of Defense Bureau of the Defense Agency, the Director-General of the Defense Facilities Administration Agency, the Chairman of Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretary-General of the Office of the Joint Chief of Staff, and the United States side is expected to be represented by those including a minister and a counsellor respectively in charge of politico-military affairs from the Embassy in Tokyo, Commander of the United States Forces, Japan, and the Chief of Staff USFJ.

The merits in establishing such a forum would be that it is composed of competent members who could discuss security and politico-military matters in a comprehensive manner and that all the members could meet at any time when necessary in or around Tokyo.

The Government of Japan believes that closer consultation between the two Governments through such forum is one way to realize the agreement reached at the summit meeting at Hawaii in September last year that "the two Governments would continue to cooperate through close consultations with a view to ensuring smooth and effective implementation of the Security Treaty", and therefore requests the United States side to concur in this proposal.

4. If the United States side has no objection to the views of the Japanese side as expressed above, the Government of Japan proposes that these points be mentioned in the press release of the coming meeting of the Security Consultative Committee as set forth in Attachment 2.

Press Release

Para. Y

The Committee, in view of the necessity further to promote communication and consultation between the two Governments for the smooth implementation of the Security Treaty and its related arrangements, agreed to establish a subcommittee composed of diplomatic and defence officials as a subordinate organ to this Committee. The subcommittee, which will meet from time to time as may be necessary, would contribute to achieving the above objective.
