that international peace and security and justice are not endangered and to refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state, or in any other manner inconsistent with the purposes of the United Nations.

ARTICLE II

The Parties will consult together whenever in the opinion of either of them international peace and security in the Far East is threatened.

ARTICLE III

Japan grants to the United States of America, subject to such conditions as may be agreed upon, the use of certain facilities and areas in Japan by the United States land, air and sea forces.

ARTICLE IV

1. If an armed attack occurs against Japan, the United States of America shall take such joint measures with Japan as are necessary for the defense of the latter.
2. Any such armed attack and all measures taken as a result thereof shall be immediately reported to the Security Council of the United Nations in accordance with the provisions of Article 51 of the Charter. Such measures shall be terminated when the Security Council has taken the measures necessary to restore and maintain international peace and security.

ARTICLE V

1. This Treaty does not affect and shall not be interpreted as affecting in any way the rights and obligations of the Parties under the Charter of the United Nations or the responsibility of the United Nations for the maintenance of international peace and security.

2. This Treaty will be implemented by each Party in accordance with the constitutional provisions of the respective countries.

ARTICLE VI

The Parties will consult together from time to time regarding the implementation of this Treaty.

ARTICLE VII

This Treaty shall be ratified by Japan and the United States of America in accordance with their respective constitutional procedures and will enter into force on the date on which the instruments of ratification thereof have been exchanged by them in Washington.

ARTICLE VIII

ARTICLE VIII

The Security Treaty between Japan and the United States of America signed at the city of San Francisco on September 8, 1951 shall expire upon the entering into force of this Treaty.

ARTICLE IX

1. This Treaty shall remain in force for a period of ( ) years, and shall continue in force thereafter until terminated as provided in paragraph 2 below.
2. Either Party may, by giving one year's written notice to the other Party, terminate this Treaty at the end of the period mentioned in paragraph 1 above or at any time thereafter.
3. Notwithstanding the provisions of the two preceding paragraphs, this Treaty shall expire whenever in the opinion of the Governments of Japan and the United States of America there shall have come into force such United Nations arrangements as will satisfactorily provide for the maintenance of international peace and security in the Japan Area.
