Dear Secretary Herter:

I wish to refer to the Treaty of Mutual Cooperation and Security between Japan and the United States of America signed today. Under Article IV of the Treaty, the two Governments will consult together from time to time regarding the implementation of the Treaty, and, at the request of either Government, whenever the security of Japan or international peace and security in the Far East is threatened. The exchange of notes under Article VI of the Treaty specifies certain matters as the subjects of prior consultation with the Government of Japan.

Such consultations will be carried on between the two Governments through appropriate channels. At the same time, however, I feel that the establishment of a special committee which could as appropriate be used for consultations would prove very useful. This committee, which would meet whenever requested by either side, could consider any matters underlying and related to security affairs which would serve to promote understanding between the two Governments and contribute to the strengthening of cooperative relations between the two countries in the field of security.

Under this proposal the present "Japanese-American Committee on Security" established by the Governments of the United States and Japan on August 6, 1957 would be replaced by this new committee which might be called "The Security Consultative Committee". I would also recommend that the membership of this new committee be the same as the membership of the "Japanese-American Committee on Security", namely on the Japanese side, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, who will preside on the Japanese side, and the Director General of the Defense Agency, and on the United States side, the United States Ambassador to Japan, who will serve as Chairman on the United States side, and the Commander-in-Chief, Pacific, who will be the Ambassador's principal advisor on military and defense matters. The Commander, United States Forces, Japan, will serve as alternate for the Commander-in-Chief, Pacific.

I would appreciate very much your views on this matter.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Prime Minister:

The receipt is acknowledged of your note of today's date suggesting the establishment of "The Security Consultative Committee". I fully agree to your proposal and share your view that such a committee can contribute to strengthening the cooperative relations between the two countries in the field of security.

I also agree to your proposal regarding the membership of this committee, namely, ~~that the Japanese Government will be represented by the Minister for Foreign Affairs and the Director General of the Defense Agency and the United States Government by the United States Ambassador to Japan and the Commander in Chief, Pacific.~~

Yours sincerely,

Re. MBAA
(U.S. Note)

Excellency:

I have the honor to refer to the Treaty of Mutual Cooperation and Security between the United States of America and Japan signed to-day. It is the understanding of the Government of the United States that references to the Security Treaty between the United States of America and Japan, signed at San Francisco on September 8, 1951, appearing in the Mutual Defense Assistance Agreement between the United States of America and Japan, signed at Tokyo on March 8, 1954, should be understood to be references to the corresponding provisions, if any, of the Treaty of Mutual Cooperation and Security.

I should be appreciative if Your Excellency would confirm on behalf of your Government that this is also the understanding of the Government of Japan.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

(Japanese Reply)

Excellency:

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's Note of today's date, which reads as follows:

(Text of U.S. Note)

I have further the honour to confirm on behalf of my Government that the foregoing is also the understanding of the Government of Japan.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.
